LOCAL CLIPPINGS.

From Yesterday's Telegram.

BY LOCAL TALENT.
Rehearsals are progressing by local companies who will perform the three comedy, "A Scrap of Paper," for the benefit of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The performance occurs on March 30, at the opera house.

FT. WORTH'S PROGRESS.
The spirit of improvement has settled down upon many property owners in Fort Worth, and as a result the present rising and upward trend will witness the rising heavenward of many imposing and stately business structures.

The signs of returning prosperity have pointed many citizens and also non-residents to build.

Local property adjoining the magnificient Hotel Texas now looks on the south, extending to Eighth street, and indeed no hotel who resides in the face have intersected roads. Fort Worth represents to go ahead at once and complete all necessary preliminary arrangements for the erection of a fine business hotel on the prairie, which when finished will completely close up the block from Seventh and Eighth streets. The building will have a Main street frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 200 extending to the rear.

The reporter's informant stated that work on the new block would be under way inside of ten days, and would be completed along as rapidly as possible.

Oliver Walker, it was learned today, has notified his tenants on the corner of Tenth and Houston to vacate at once. Mr. Walker proposes to let at once a contract for the erection of four additional business houses fronting on Houston street.

CITY HALL.
Assistant Secretary Collier is engaged making out the pay roll of city employees, next Tuesday being the regular pay day. City Police received last night from Dallas. He found the parties who robbed Gordon's clothing store, on Main street, but as the were wanted for a previous robbery committed at Marshall, an officer from that city was allowed to take the prisoners.

There were two cases before the city court this morning, the principal one being Lebeda. Apolobitis, an acre Amazon, who passes two-thirds of her time behind the bars. This time she was fined $25 for disturbing the peace, and will go to jail.

A telegram was received at headquarters this morning announcing that an officer would serve them on the first train for the purpose of escorting back to Denver the man Vincent Wallace, apprehended here for a murder said to have been committed in Colorado.

The telegram was received at 7:30 a.m.

Mr. A. H. Smith, wanted at Midland for horse theft. He is about 30 years old, 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs about 145 pounds and wears a dark beard and mustache. He represents himself as president of the Knights of Columbus, a secret society, and has in his possession several railway passes issued to him by reason of this fact. The man is a good talker, and there is a strong suspicion that he is wanted elsewhere for some criminal transaction. He is a telegrapher and also a first-class accountant.

FIRECLIMBERS.

There will be an important business meeting of the Fire Department, in their armory, in the Gazette building at 3 p.m. Sunday.

BROADWAY PRESBYTERIAN.
Sunday, 9:30 a.m. Sabbath school, G. B. Cox, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. by the pastor, Rev. Josiah B. French. Monday night preaching of S. P. S. C. H. and Wednesday at 7:30, regular prayer meeting. Today continuation of Paul's last missionary journey. Public invited to all services.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE.
Last night, with Miss Mae Ellis, the Chautauqua circle spent an enjoyable and profitable evening.

The team of Miss Carrie Rose, very happy and full of fun, gave a talk on the circle. Prof. H. H. Park, in hisimit, lots of roisterous, characteristic talk that was a smash and entertainments critic.

A paper, by Miss Belle Bates, "John of Arc," received and引起 the highest commendation and enthusiasm. Miss Bates' evident skill in writing the martyred maid of Orleans, her eloquent and polished oration and style of composition much enhanced the interest in the story.

"Robert Bruce," a poem by Miss Ellis, likewise elicited a rousing ovation, understanding and appreciation of her poem.

Mr. M. A. Stevens' interpretation under the topic of "Fathers" proved immediately that the ladies knew something about heroes and ad valorem taxation, and also that they had much to learn. The team of Romeo Haskins and Romeo (Lafayette) Art, was outstanding and instructive.

Miss Leslie Budington and Miss Mattie McLean were guests of the club, and their attractive hosts, Miss Ellis.

Next Friday night the Chautauquans meet at the home of Gen. J. G. Terrell at College grounds.

WITH OUR SCHOOLS.

This week comes with an actual sentence of five days that last week said there is an improvement in the school system of the city. We have been told that there will be an increase next year in the effectiveness. Effectiveness has been reduced to the minimum via, three fourths of our teachers.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday:

W. U. Ward and Miss Belle Blackwell.

E. E. Churchman and Miss Delta Owen.

Harry Hardee and Miss Johanna Rice.

IN THE COURTS.

There was no session of the Seventh district court until Judge Harris having adjourned until Monday.

Judge Greene held no court today in the Forty-eighth district.

Judge Johnson and a jury are still engaged in the county court in the trial of the man James H. Brown v. J. M. German, in action to establish right of property.

The March term of the county court begins on Monday morning. Judge Johnson will call the dockets for orders and direct the process to proceed to call the criminal cases, which will continue for the coming four weeks.

The only suit filed today in the district court was that of E. H. Parrot vs. Judd Boyd et al.; debt and foreclosure.

VERY QUIET.

Are the sensations experienced by the nervous and dyspeptic. Unaccountable palliation, bursting in the ears, flushing of the face, acid taste and tingling in the mouth, constant restlessness, stirring in the gutters and shaking in the stomach, were sensitiveness to slight sounds, that magnifies those trifles, low spirits—these are only a few of the tormenting experiences of the individual, who suffers from endogenous and imbecile—a team that usually travel together. These are the commonest and most vexatious complaints, but, stop by stop, the greater of somnambulism, hysterics, stomach-bitterness, which overcomes their allays constipation and diarrhoea. The other team, consisting of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatic rheumatism and kidney complaint, creates various operations and pronounces a quietus, quietus.

A millionaire of Vienna has left his residence in his will for the constant libations of the spirit, wherein he may live.

An electric light is to be kept burning for a year, and even the candle is to be lit in the interior by electricity.

A FEW DONT'S.

Don't be unceasingly repining because you.

Don't feel perfectly well. And.

Don't sleep using towels. Females.

Don't be afraid of seeing trouble.

Don't be afraid of worms.

Don't be afraid of worms species.

GENEROUS GIFT

FROM A LEADING FORT WORTH HOUSE

To the Ladies' Associated Charities.
Good Faith Kept With the Public.

Some time ago Messrs. Washer Bros. advertised that every person making a purchase at their store would be presented with a key, and that at the expiration of a certain time the person holding the particular key that would unlock a casket containing $25 in gold would be presented with the money. The time passed, but the fortunate holder did not report. The casket was held intact for thirty days, and then the gold coin was locked up in the bank. Another day was allowed, and then the box was opened again. The box contained $25 in gold, and the box was given to the Ladies' Associated Charities.

After December 15 the box holder of the key that opened the box should have the money.

There was but one key that fitted the box, and although it was given out with the rest, the holder thereof has as far failed to return an answer. As we most return nothing to the holder of the key, we are compelled to turn the money over to the Ladies' Associated Charities.

We are most anxious to know what the holder of the key will do with the money, and if he does not return it to us, we will have to turn it over to the Ladies' Associated Charities.

The following note was received:

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 22.—Mrs. Washer Bros. City Dear Sirs: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and I wish to thank you heartily for the generous gift contained in the check for $25 contained in the letter received yesterday. As it is difficult to add to the amount, and not knowing exactly to whom it should go, I will give it to the Ladies' Associated Charities, and we will try to act as wisely in presenting it to the needs of suffering humanity. The gift will be appreciated by every member of the Ladies' Associated Charities, both for its intrinsic value and for the personal pleasure we experience in turning it over to be used in our work. Therefore, I only hope the southwest of our whole country.

MRS. J. J. JARVIS,
Pres. Ladies' Associated Charities.

A LUNG TONIC.

A certain remedy for Chronic Catarrh in All Forms.

Mrs. T. V. Rodgers of Flushing, Mich., 32 years of age, was three years ago taken ill with pneumonia, and while recovering she caught a cold. She had two physicians who gave her oil of camphor, but she did not improve. A friend recommended her to Dr. Peacock, and after using three bottles was able to do her own work. She is completely cured.

Catarrh is curable in the majority of cases, especially when less than two weeks duration, in a few weeks by the treatment of Dr. Peacock. She has two bottles of oil of camphor given out by two physicians. A friend recommended her to Dr. Peacock, and after using three bottles was able to do her own work. She is completely cured.
